

Paul, I just came from the final walk through of the Drake lab roof project. I doubt that there are many roofs around that have as many penetrations and potential leak concerns as this job involved. I dreaded the additional leaks I forecasted when I first reviewed the new HVAC equipment installation. I was really impressed today by the quality of workmanship and attention to detail that your crew performed. I would have to say that under the conditions you were up against that this is the best roofing job I have ever seen on campus. I would also like to thank you for the extra effort you have taken on the other projects you completed this summer as well. Laurel Hall, Composites, and Sharp Lab were all first rate jobs.
